To our sisters and brothers from the Member Organizations of EI in Greenland

From Latin America, we, education workers affiliated with Education International, send a greeting filled with fraternity, solidarity, and rebellion to the peoples and educators of Greenland.

Like you, we teach in classrooms because we believe they are spaces of transformation, where the seeds of social justice and strong, participatory democracies are sown.

Like you, we, indigenous teachers, defend curricula that speak the truth of our peoples' histories, that honor our deep connection to the land, and that protect our mother tongues, so that our students may find in education a place of welcome and a reflection of their identities.

Like you, we draw strength from our collective power as workers. We do not stop dreaming. We do not surrender the principles of our working-class identity, the right to envision a future, and to build it daily through our labor.

The new faces of colonialism, the new mechanisms of oppression, they are not new.

- It is not new that we are attacked.
- It is not new that we resist.
- It is not new that the attacks intensify.
- It is not new that our resistance and solidarity grow stronger.

The struggle for justice, dignity, and the protection of your territories remains vital. As trade unions affiliated with Education International, we will continue to mobilize our strength and our resolve for futures free from imperialism, futures rooted in peace, freedom, and vibrant democracies for our peoples.
